

This is an extract from The Lost World by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, written in 1912. Professor Challenger has claimed that he discovered dinosaurs in a distant part of South America. He is now on an expedition to prove his story with another scientist, Professor Summerlee. Also on the expedition are Lord John, an explorer, and Malone, a journalist. In this extract, narrated by Malone, the men are about to set off into the remote area where Professor Challenger believes they will find dinosaurs...

The Lost World

We slowly and cautiously set forth into the unknown. After a few hundred yards of thick forest, we entered a region where the stream widened out and formed a considerable bog. High reeds grew thickly before us, with tree-ferns scattered amongst them, all of them swaying in a brisk wind. Suddenly Lord John, who was walking first, halted.

“Look at this!” said he. “This must be the trail of the father of all birds!”

An enormous three-toed track was imprinted in the soft mud before us.

“I’ll stake my good name,” said Lord John, “that the track is a fresh one. See, here is the mark of a little one too!”

“But what of this?” cried Professor Summerlee, triumphantly, pointing to what looked like the huge print of a five-fingered human hand appearing among the three-toed marks. “Not a bird.”

“A beast?”

Summerlee’s words died away into a whisper, and we all stood in motionless amazement. Following the tracks, we passed through a screen of brushwood and trees. Beyond was an open glade, and in this were five of the most extraordinary creatures that I have ever seen. Crouching down among the bushes, we observed them at our leisure.

There were, as I say, five of them, two adults and three young ones. In size they were enormous. Even the babies were as big as elephants, while the two large ones were far beyond all creatures I have ever seen. They had slate-coloured skin, which was scaled like a lizard’s and shimmered where the sun shone upon it. All five were sitting up, balancing themselves upon their broad, powerful tails and their huge three-toed hind feet, while with their small five-fingered front feet they pulled down the branches upon which they browsed. I can only bring their appearance home to you by saying that they looked like gigantic kangaroos with skins like black crocodiles.

I do not know how long we stayed gazing at this marvellous spectacle. From time to time the little ones played round their parents in unwieldy gambols, bounding into the air and falling with dull thuds upon the earth. The strength of the parents seemed to be limitless, for one of them, having some difficulty in reaching a bunch of foliage, put his forelegs round the trunk of the tree and tore it down as if it had been a sapling. Then it slowly lurched off through the wood, followed by its mate and its three enormous infants. We saw the glistening grey gleam of their skins between the tree-trunks, and their heads high above the brushwood. Then they vanished from our sight.

I looked at my comrades. The two professors were in silent ecstasy.

“What will they say in England of this?” Professor Summerlee cried at last.

“They will say that you are a liar,” said Professor Challenger, “exactly as you and others said of me.”

“In the face of photographs?”

“Faked, Summerlee! Clumsily faked!”

“Who’s to blame them? For this will seem a dream to ourselves in a month or two,” said Lord John. “What were they?”

“Iguanodons,” said Summerlee. “England was once alive with them when there was plenty of good lush green-stuff to keep them going.”

“I don’t know what anyone else thinks, but this place makes me feel very uneasy...” said Lord John.

I had the same feeling of mystery and danger around us. In the gloom of the trees there seemed a constant menace and as we looked up into their shady foliage, vague terrors crept into one’s heart. The iguanodons we had seen were lumbering, inoffensive brutes which were unlikely to hurt anyone, but what other creatures might there not be – ready to pounce upon us from their lair among the rocks or brushwood?

THE LOST WORLD QUESTIONS

1. Circle the correct option to complete each sentence below.

(a) The story is told from the perspective of...

Professor
Summerlee.

Lord John.

Malone.

Professor Challenger.

Acceptable Points

Likely evidence (accept paraphrase)

inoffensive
1. acted like children / playful	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • little ones played round their parents • unwieldy gambols • bounding into the air
2. they are herbivores / vegetarians	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • reaching a bunch of foliage
3. being together as a family / looking after their young	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • little ones played round their parents • followed by its mate and its three enormous infants
4. the men don't find them frightening / they don't harm the men	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • I do not know how long we stayed gazing • this marvellous spectacle
5. slow movement	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • slowly lurched
brutes
6. strength	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • tore it down as if it had been a sapling • the strength of the parents seemed to be limitless
7. huge size	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • dull thuds • its three enormous infants • put his forelegs round the trunk of the tree • their heads high above the brushwood • tore it down as if it had been a sapling • lurched
8. the way they move	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • unwieldy gambols • dull thuds • lurched off

Award 3 marks for a response that identifies one acceptable point for inoffensive and one acceptable point for brutes, both with evidence, e.g.

- it explains that the iguanodons were harmless because it says they eat foliage which means they are vegetarians. It also says 'I do not know how long we have stared at this spectacle' which means they hadn't tried to hurt them or kill them when most dinosaurs would have tried to kill them for food. They were like brutes because they were so strong and pulled out trees without any effort. [AP2 - inoffensive + ev, AP4 - inoffensive + ev and AP6 – brutes + ev]
- They were not offensive as they let the men stare at them for ages and they didn't attack them. But they were also like brutes as they were strong and pulled trees up really easily. [AP4 - inoffensive + ev and AP6 - brutes + ev]
- You could tell that they were inoffensive because they were playing. One of the parents was followed by its mate so they were friendly. It says they lurched which makes them sound big and heavy. [AP1, AP3 - inoffensive + ev, AP7 brutes + ev]

Award 2 marks for a response that identifies one acceptable point for inoffensive and one acceptable point for brutes, one with evidence, e.g.

- They were very strong as they could tear down a tree. And the children played lots of games [AP6 - brutes + ev and AP1 - inoffensive]

- They were moving really slowly because he says they lurched. They were also huge. [AP5 - inoffensive + ev and AP7 - brutes]

Award 1 mark for two acceptable points, one for inoffensive and one for brutes or one acceptable point with evidence for either inoffensive or brutes, e.g.

- They are vegetarians but they are really stron [AP2 - inoffensive and AP6 - brutes]
- It explains that the iguanodons are harmless by saying they eat foliage so they are vegetarians. Also the little ones play around in 'unwieldy gambols' giving a cute impression. [AP2 - inoffensive + ev, AP1- inoffensive + ev]
- They must have weighed a lot because they made dull thuds when they fell over. [AP7 - brutes + ev]

Also accept, for a maximum of 1 mark, relevant quotations taken from the paragraph without a link to an acceptable point, that evidence both inoffensive and brutes, e.g.

- The little ones played round their parents in unwieldy gambols
- It calls them little ones and enormous infants

7. Award 1 mark for: (my) comrades.

1 mark

8. Award 1 mark for one of the following acceptable points:

1. he knows what the tracks are / that they are dinosaur tracks
2. he is completely fascinated (ecstasy) by the iguanodons / the opportunity to study pre-historic life
3. he knows that they are iguanodons / that they once lived in England.

Do not accept he was a professor (he could be a professor of anything).

1 mark

9. Award 2 marks for four correct words and 1 mark for two or three correct words from the list below:

1. gloom
2. menace
3. terrors
4. pounce

5. lair
6. crept.

Up to 2 marks

10. Award 1 mark for all four correct.

	True	False
Lord John saw the dinosaur tracks first.	✓
Professor Summerlee has faked the evidence.		✓
Professor Challenger worries that people won't believe them.	✓

1 mark

11. (a) Award 1 mark for:

- (“I don't know what anyone else thinks, but this place) makes me feel very uneasy...” (said Lord John).

1 mark

(b) Award 1 mark for answers that refer to both his mood at the beginning and at the end of the extract.

Beginning:

Accept appropriate synonyms for: enthusiastic / excited / curious.

End:

Accept appropriate synonyms for: cautious / scared / anxious.

1 mark

12. Award 2 marks for an acceptable point supported by text-based evidence.

Award 1 mark for either an acceptable point or a relevant piece of text-based evidence.

Acceptable points (can be implied)	Evidence
1. death / attack / threat	feelings of danger gloom constant menace terrors pounce iguanodons lair
2. lost	gloom shady foliage rocks
3. discovering other dinosaurs	other creatures constant menace

terrors the iguanodons we had seen lair gloom

Examples of 2 mark responses:

- A vicious beast is going to eat them later on because it says there is a constant menace therefore they may not get to confirm to England that they were real dinosaurs.
- I think they will journey on to try to locate some more creatures, for in the text it says ‘what other creatures might there not be ready to pounce upon us from their lair among the rocks and brushwood’
- It says ‘but what other creatures might there not be there ready to pounce upon us from their lair among the rocks or brushwood?’ which implies that something might jump out and attack them
- They were in a dangerous place and suddenly a dinosaur will pounce from behind a rock and grab one of them and eat him.

Examples of 1 mark responses:

- They got lost and stayed there and became friends with the Iguanodons
- They might be pounced on.

Do not accept general answers not relating to specific events or actions, e.g.

- It’s going to be dangerous
- They carry on exploring.

Do not accept textual evidence that is not taken from the last paragraph, e.g.

- They will find more footprints and follow them.

Do not accept predictions not supported by the last paragraph, e.g.

- They catch some dinosaurs and take them back to England.
